

I enjoy Satellite Radio on a daily basis. I regularly travel for work and prefer XM Satellite Radio over the local radio stations. Localized weather and traffic offered by XM radio allows me to prepare for a particular cities I'm travelling into when I'm still unable to get a local channel's signal. I respectfully request that you allow capitalism, competition and democracy to do it's work in this case. The market and consumers should determine if we prefer the quality of satellite radio locally or if local broadcasting is sufficient to meet our needs. I'm urging you to reject the NAB's petition 04-160 and support XM's ability to provide the programming that I not only prefer over local radio, but am also willing to pay a monthly subscription fee to access!
